Summary

I am an Adaptable, Detail-Oriented, Collaborative, Problem-Solver, Continuous Learner, Innovative Person.

With an extensive skill set in programming, I possess a diverse range of technical abilities that allow me to navigate through the intricacies of software development. From backend development, where I architect the core functionality of applications, to fullstack development, where I can seamlessly bridge the gap between the server and the user interface, I am well-versed in multiple layers of the development stack.
